ILLUSTRATION

Kate Daubney

info@beehiveillustration.co.uk

Kate studied Illustration at Falmouth College of Arts in Cornwall, England. Straight after graduating she gained her first picture book commission. Since then she's continued to work on an array of projects and has been published in the U.K, America, Australia, Europe and Japan. She loves creating colourful, quirky, digital illustrations for the children's book market. She currently lives in North Devon, on the South West Coast of England with her partner Roger, daughter Grace and her seagull chasing terrier, Taz.
