

I've been working as an illustrator, mostly in educational publishing, since leaving art college in the 1980's during that time I've worked for most major publishers and a fair few smaller ones. There's not much I've not illustrated twice, though I am still waiting to do the ship and iceberg pic.

